MILWAUKEE WELCOMES THROG OF REPUBLICANS.

BANCROFT FOR CHAIRMAN

Question of Nominating A State Ticket Will Be Taken Up Tomorrow—Billion Sounds Keynote.

MILWAUKEE, June 8.—There were nearly one thousand delegates present at two o'clock this afternoon when the state republican convention assembled. The latest report of what will be done indicates that this afternoon's proceedings will be strictly routine. Vice-President Sherman arrived shortly before noon, and will make no public address until night. Others speaking and convention business will occupy all of the afternoon and the decision whether or not to nominate the state ticket will be left until tomorrow. The probability is that no ticket will be named. That is the program of the leaders today.

DILLON SOUNDS KEYNOTE.

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—Temporary Chairman M. E. Dillon, in addressing the republican convention, urged harmony in the party—both state and national—and declared that it would be wiser unless it was placed above the ambition of the individual. He held that men elected to office upon a party platform were bound to carry out the platform promise, and that when these beneficiaries of party raise the black flag of politics they should never again be allowed to sail under the banner of any political organization. The speaker paid a warm tribute to President Taft and declared in favor of the administration program.

Among those present at the preliminary conference held last evening were: E. L. Phillips, chairman of the executive committee; Senator John M. Whitehead, Janesville; H. H. Grace, Superior; W. M. Bray, Oshkosh; George P. Hambrecht, Grand Rapids; Frank R. Bentley, Baraboo; H. C. Butterfield, Hartford; Spencer Haven; Hudson; M. J. Walfrid, Shawano; E. R. Hicks, Oshkosh; Levi H. Bancroft, Richland Center; W. H. Mylrea, Waunakee; John Persin, Superior; Gen. F. C. Winkler, La Crosse; E. C. Hoden of Milwaukee.

The reception committee appointed to meet Vice-President Sherman at the Union depot this morning included Governor Davidson, Ex-Gov. W. D. Howard, Ex-Gov. W. H. Upham, Ex-Gov. Edward Scofield, Speaker Levi H. Bancroft, Senator Whitehead and M. G. Joffe of Janesville.

Boutell argued at length along this line and declared that in the place general temperance is advancing rapidly.

ITALY ROCKED BY A QUAKE

BELIEVED FIFTY KILLED AND HUNDREDS INJURED BY SEVERE EARTHQUAKE.

PROPERTY LOSS IS HEAVY

Extent of Disaster Uncertain Owing to Disrupted Telegraph Wires—Sardinia Is Swept by Violent Cyclone—Damage Estimated $2,000,000.

London, June 8.—It is impossible to give the number of lives lost by the earthquake south and east of Naples, in the province of Campania and Avellino, in southern Italy. Hope is entertained that the number will not exceed 100. The shocks were principally felt at Naples, Potenza, Calvi, Benevento and Foggia.

Naples, June 8.—An earthquake of unusual intensity occurred throughout southern Italy, including the island of Sicily. The full extent of the damage wrought had not been determined, but it is believed that 50 persons were killed, several hundred injured and that property losses in certain districts will be heavy. The disturbance disrupted telegraph communication generally in the province most affected, and further details are awaited with apprehension. The inhabitants of the various towns which felt the quake were thrown into panic, and the authorities had much difficulty in restoring order. A report received here told of five deaths in San Seia, a village of the province of Potenza, in the compartment of "Baillucina."

Not Comparable With Messina. The king thought that it was not necessary for the queen to go, as the situation in Avellino was not to be compared with that in Messina, where their majesties spent several days in alleviating the distress of the people. In reply to the king's protests, Queen Helena retorted:

"As my presence is necessary at all festivities it must not lack where the people die and weep. In the south life is suffering, therefore, I go."

It is "my place" he said, "and a mother."

Twenty Reported Dead. In Calvi 20 persons are reported dead. It is a town of about 8,000 inhabitants, situated on the Ofanto river, seven miles northeast of Canza. Every house in the village of San Seia was damaged.

Deaths occurred in Valata and it is feared that fatalities will be reported from other villages which for a time are cut off from communication with this city.

The shock came while the people were still in their beds. Many houses in Calvi tumbled, burying the occupants in the ruins. Those who escaped death or serious injury fled terror-stricken from their homes into the country. Few waited to put on street clothes, and as a result many subsequently suffered from exposure. The shocks were felt here, but no damage was done in this immediate vicinity.

Shock Is Widespread. News from Salerno, at the head of the Gulf of Salerno, 30 miles southeast of Naples, is to the effect that the shock was distinct there and caused much damage. Details are lacking. The shock was felt for ten seconds in the province of Avellino. It was also felt strongly, but for a shorter period, at Coenza, Paoli, Catanzaro, Reggio, Potenza, Benevento, Capua and Molli.

There was a panic in Torre Annunziata and Torre del Greco, where the inhabitants live in constant fear of an eruption from Mount Vesuvius. Reports from Baillucina say that the shock was felt severely in Potenza. Similar reports came from Paoli and Catanzaro. In the compartment of Calabria, and from Palermo, on the northern coast of Sicily.

Sardinia Ravaged by Cyclone. Rome, June 8.—Misfortune seems to have chosen Italy as a target. While the south has been afflicted by an earthquake the vast region of Sardinia, the largest island in the Mediterranean after Sicily, was ravaged by a violent cyclone. The districts of Lanusei, Tortolì, Olbano, Elima and Jerzu have been devastated and the crops, vineyards and cattle destroyed. It is believed that many shepherds have followed the fate of their flocks. The damage in Sardinia is estimated at $2,000,000.

Fanatics Attack Missionaries. American missionaries visiting

Calvi were considered by some superstitious fanatics to be responsible for the earthquake and were attacked by the villagers. Soldiers saved them from the mob and escorted them from the place.

Jacksonville, Fla., June 8.—In the second primary for United States senator the returns are far from complete and a fair estimate is impossible. However, it is evident that he will be nominated for United States senator over Senator Taliaferro by a majority of from 1,500 to 2,000 votes.

Watrous of Des Moines, Ia., responded, after which the convention listened to the president's address by F. H. Stannard of Ottawa, Kan., and the reports of the other officers. MITCHELL MAY BRING PEACE.

Former President of Miners Will Take Part in Conference.

Chicago, June 8.—John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers, may be the Moses who will lead the Illinois miners and operators out of the wilderness. Mr. Mitchell arrived in the city and was met by John H. Walker, president of the Illinois miners, and Frank Farrington, executive board member from Illinois. The three labor chiefs spent the day in conference, and it is believed that a meeting with the operators may take place soon.

Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has refused to take any part in the Illinois situation because of the friction which exists between him and the state officers.

German Machine Guns.

The German army has 10 machine gun batteries, which it has had for some time, and which there appears to be no tendency to increase. It may therefore be assumed that they are designed to fit out the divisions of cavalry which will be organized in the event of war, one for each division.

YOU Need Not Become Bald

Loss of hair is caused by dandruff. If neglected this becomes a disease (of the scalp) known as Pityriasis. This stage is reached in the majority of cases before any steps are taken to rectify the condition and then requires prompt and careful treatment, since still further neglect will result in the follicles or hair cells becoming atrophied (or dead), due to the fact that the parasite which causes the trouble invades the follicle and destroys the natural oils which nourish the hair. The hair then dries up and falls out. If taken in time new hair can be induced to grow from these follicles.

Hughel's Dander-Off

is a radical departure from the tonics of the present day. The cures effected by this marvel of modern science are due to its ability to destroy the dandruff germ without at the same time destroying the natural oil on which the hair feeds. A thing impossible of accomplishment where the tonic is strongly alcoholic, as is the case with most of the tonics now on the market, containing as they do from 50% to 75% alcohol.

DANDER-OFF will stop falling hair and is sold on a positive guarantee to cure Dandruff, Itching and Eczemic scalp if applied as directed. Purchase price will be refunded in every case in which it fails.

THE NEW BATTLESHIP.
It might be well for the United States to go slow on appropriations for naval warfare, until the European governments perfect their fleet of airships, which is just now attracting so much attention.

Aerial navigation is yet in its infancy, but the rapid strides which are making indicate possibilities of great magnitude. The price of $25,000 offered to the man who will make the flight from New York to Chicago will call out half a dozen contestants, and plans are already being discussed for an aerial trip across the Atlantic.

When the flight across the English channel was made, six months ago, it caused great enthusiasm, but a man made the same trip and returned without alighting, one day last week.

Many sensational pictures of flights in the air have been produced and passed on as fancy sketches of over-wrought imagination, but the people of the old world do not so regard them, as will be seen by the following account of what is being abroad,
according to the "World's Work."

"While aerial contests and dramatic flights are stirring the popular imagination European governments are preparing for war in the air. Six months ago during the official military maneuvers, three great German dirigibles representing three types of construction, rigid, semi-rigid, and non-rigid, respectively, gave a striking demonstration of Germany's aerial power.

"A fourth vessel joined the fleet soon after the trials commenced. From Cologne as a center a series of speed, endurance, and altitude trials were made, but the details have been kept secret. A night attack was directed against the fortress of Ehren-breitstein near Coblenz, and the airships, acting under orders, used searchlights and signaled with flashlights and wireless telegraphy.

"The Zeppelin II, lately made a voyage of reconnaissance, describing a large circle from Cologne, crossing the frontier into the Netherlands, and returning by Juleh after a trip of eight and a half hours. Later, at Hannover, the Kaiser officially reviewed the airship squadron, arriving in column like a line of battleships.

"Along the French frontier German has twenty balloon stations, those at Metz and Cologne being large enough to house two Zeppelins. At Grisehain, near Frankfurt, is a storage station where 15,000 bottles of compressed gas are kept on hand; row tanks already connected to a filling pipe stand ready to carry gas wherever it is needed. At Decken-dorf, also, more than 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas is stored in these pressure bottles with the Imperial coat-of-arms upon them. When the proposed aerial passenger routes are in operation,

even these facilities will be improved upon."

STIRRED UP THE ANIMALS.
The criticism of Col. Roosevelt on Egyptian rule has stirred up the mother country more than any event which has transpired in recent history. When he was given the keys of London and invited to talk plainly,
the authorities had evidently forgotten the characteristics which have made America's most prominent citizen famous. The "big stick" which Col. Roosevelt has used so often, is no myth and British soil is no more sacred to him than the African Jungle. The following criticisms indicate how deeply the English people are annoyed.

"Declaring that only 'evergreen Rough Riders' would have been innocent enough to quote Lord Cromer who 'has done more than any other living man to create Egyptian nationalism and to make it impossible for any self-respecting Egyptian to accept English rule voluntarily,' George Her-nard Shaw says that ever since Endru Shaw away from England it has been proving its utter uselessness to govern itself. He avers that nothing that has happened in 'Egypt' can 'touch' the revelations of conditions in large American cities.

"If it is our duty," Mr. Shaw continues, 'as Mr. Roosevelt says, to govern Egypt for its own good without consulting its inhabitants, it is many times more important that we should take America in hand in the same way. It is very curious that Mr.
Roosevelt should deliberately set us up to re-conquer 'his country. He even urges us to do it by violence and injustice if necessary.'

"William T. Stead quotes a prominent British official as saying that the Roosevelt speech is the worst blow
the Liberals and Irish have received for many a long day. Mr. Stead asserts that Mr. Roosevelt should regard the Nationalist agitation in Egypt as an unpardonable sin and the far more important agitation in Ireland as a legitimate struggle to be free.

"Commenting on this blazing im-discretion of Mr. Roosevelt, James Keir Hardy in a party paper charges that a move in financial and reactionary circles to secure recall of Sir Eldon Gort, British agent in Egypt, must have been behind his 'thinly veiled attack' upon the Egyptian administration. 'It is intolerable,' says this paper, 'that a man who has been and may again be President of the United States should be allowed to interfere in our foreign politics, and use a position of privilege to try to bound out of public life a valuable servant of the state with whose policy he does not happen to agree.'

Attorney General Wickersham may be a good lawyer, but he knows less about railroads than the average station agent. When he told the western railroad officials that he had statistics to prove that he was right and they were wrong, the statement smacked of sublime egotism.

Factionalism in politics should be a dead issue. There should be no such things as factional republicans in the state of Wisconsin and the man who tries to revive it should be promptly squashed. Factional fights belong to the dark ages of Wisconsin politics.

If anyone questions the statement of Grant U. Fisher relative to his work as a member of the state board of agriculture, and the state live stock sanitary board, after his full statement there is something behind it all besides honesty of purpose.

Farmers make serious complaint
that the roads leading into the city, particularly Lincoln avenue, are sadly in need of repair. They point with pride to their country roads, in Harmony in particular, and ask for a comparison.

It was a gathering of republicans that answered the call of the temporary president in Milwaukee today.
Republicans from all parts of the state bound together by the one tie—
"loyalty to Taft and the republican principles.

The republicans of the state should profit by the convention now being held in Milwaukee. It is results in harmony and a reunited party, organized for work much good will be accomplished.

That "his" for Sherman and Cannon's automobile continues to bother the members of congress. They would like to have them run autos
but not ask for supplies to run them with.

Loyalty to Taft does not spell disloyalty to Roosevelt. Some people have tried to raise this cry but it is useless. Roosevelt and Taft are both republicans of the same stripe.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)

A pleasant yarn to live was told about the man who lives next door.
It shows he has a heart of gold—a thing I never knew before. And I will spring this cheerful tale
on every fellow that I meet; I'll sing it till it's growing stale, and then I'll tell it and repeat, I hold that when we hear of good, we shouldn't hide the fact away, but share it around the neighborhood, and tell the story every day. I've heard a story, dark and sad, about old Jinks, two doors below; it indicates that he is bad, and full of wickedness and woe. But I'll forget that dismal tale; it profits no one to recite the weaknesses of those who fall, in this life's march, of doing right. It profits

no one to rehearse the divers sins that men possessed; why talk about the bad and worse, when we may talk about the best? You'll never help a fellow gent whose feet in crooked paths have strayed, by giving wide advertisement to all the breaks that he has made. So keep a good and hopeful mind, and spread good rumors always, yet; and when you hear the other kind, just show how well you can forget.

A TEMPERANCE LECTURE.
Do you know how alcohol does its work of ruin to body and mind?

A scientist compares the human brain
and the nervous system, which it controls, to the electric street car system of a great city.

Somewhere in the suburbs is the main power house, and from it go the feed wires to every part of the city, distributing power to the smaller stations, and these in turn to other districts.

So the brain is the power house of the human system.

In the brain are generated—we know not how—the mysterious forces that govern the functions of the body and the mind.

Science calls this energy neuron
energy—nervous energy.

Now, every feed wire of the great power house which runs the street cars and carries the electricity for the lamps in the cars or on the deck of the messenger, every wire is able to transmit just so much electrical energy and no more.

Crowd too much on the wire and the fuse "burns out."

So with the brain. The nerve wires can carry just so much nervous energy.
Overstrain the nerves and they literally
burn out.

Alcohol overstimulates, puts too much on the nerve wires. Something must burn.

The brain station controls every function of mind and body. It not only carries the energy for physical effort, but provides the force for the marshaling of the thoughts, records impressions and even throws its lamplight on the moral pathway of the mind.

What happens when the wires are overloaded?

Why, the smaller motor centers—sub-stations—are smashed. That means temporary insanity. If continued it means ruin of the system.

Alcohol literally burns out the wires at some point. And the microscope shows the ashes. You can see the remains—"mind ashes"—just as easily as you can see the ashes in a smoked pipe.

And thus does science show through the microscope the ruins of a soul-
like the crater of a burned out volcano.

Could there be a stronger temperance lecture?

Mind you, this is no picture by a "temperance crank."

It is the revelation of cold, deliberate science—demonstrated fact.

Alcohol literally burns out the nerve centers.

actly the promptness with which Presi-

Does Your Boy or Girl Want That $10.00?

HELP YOUR BOY OR GIRL TO THINK OF A GOOD SLOGAN
FOR JANEVILLE PUT ON YOUR THINKING CAP
—GET BUSY TONIGHT—SEND IN AN ANSWER.

The contest announced yesterday in this paper for school chilren in Janesville and Rock County has created great interest.
Is your boy or girl thinking of a slogan for Janesville? Are you helping your boy or girl think of a good slogan for Janesville? Now, right now, put on your thinking cap, get busy and think of some good slogan for your city. Help your boy or girl win that $10.00.

There are two prizes to be given away for the best slogan submitted $10; for the second best slogan submitted $5.

The prizes will be paid to winners, but the Executive Committee reserves the right to not accept for future use, any slogans sent in.
You see some boy or girl is going to win that $10.00 and come other boy or girl is going to get that $5. Wouldn't you like to have your child be a winner? Of course you would. Then help by suggesting a good slogan for Janesville.

Up in Kalamazoo the people say "We do"—In Chattanooga
they say: "The city that pays dividends". The Committee advises that you use the word Janesville in your slogan. Here is an example of a slogan for our city: "You'll progress in Janesville". You see what Janesville wants in the way of a slogan is some expression that is short and that expresses something true and vital to this city.
Better send in your answer tonight. Use this coupon or a blank sheet of paper.

Yankee bread is baked in live steam, super-heated

In this fierce heat the starch granules swell un-

the yeast cells quickly
convert them into sugar.

"Merchant of Venice." Last evening's class play, "The Merchant of Venice," was produced by the students at the school. Over five hundred people witnessed the performance, packing the gymnasium to the doors, and many had to be turned away for lack of even standing room. The roles were all very well taken and the efforts of the amateurs were much appreciated by the audience, although a few of the younger contingent from the city, who could not understand the play, caused a great deal of annoyance by their noise. The costumes were in keeping with the play and the entire presentation was commendable from every possible viewpoint.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC FOR PAST FEW DAYS IS HEAVY

Conventions Drawing Many People From City While Numerous Home-seekers Leave Daily.

With four state conventions in progress in various parts of Wisconsin, passenger traffic on both roads has been unusually heavy during the past few days. A number from this city are in attendance at the republican convention at Milwaukee, while others are present at the "Ellis" convention at Menasha, the "Old Fellows" at Green Bay and the Commercial Travelers at Wausau. Many home-seekers are also leaving daily for points in the Dakotas and Canada. Prospects are that receipts for the month of June at both offices will far exceed the record for June, 1899, as has every month so far this year.

LAD ARRESTED FOR STEALING BICYCLE

Walter Daetweiler, Thirteen Years Old, Confesses to Theft and Matter is Settled.

Charged with having stolen a bicycle from George Davis, a tailor employed at the Ziegler clothing store, Walter Daetweiler, thirteen-year-old lad residing on Western avenue, was taken in charge by the police this morning and confessed to the theft.

Davis missed the wheel Monday, reported the matter to the police and inserted an advertisement in the Gazette offering a reward of five dollars for information leading to the capture of the thief. This morning he was furnished the desired information and young Daetweiler's arrest followed. The lad at first denied stealing the wheel, and stuck stubbornly to the story that his father had given him five dollars and that he had bought the machine.

Finally, after having been shown that his story would not hold water, he told the truth. Whereupon his parents were notified and attempted to settle the matter. Although the boy has been given up by the teacher of the German parochial school, which he attends, as incorrigible and had also distinguished himself by appropriating a horse belonging to John Casey last summer, it was decided to give him another chance. The lad's father returned the amount of the reward to Mr. Davis and the boy was released with a warning.

THE RAILROADS ARE NOW READY

ALL LINES AGREE TO WITHDRAW PROPOSED HIGHER FREIGHT RATES.

Taft's Victory Complete

President Sends Message to Congress Asking for Modification in Railroad Act to Conform With Agreement With Roads.

Washington, June 8.—By bringing the eastern railroads into the agreement made with the western trunk lines President Taft has made his victory complete in the rate case.

All Roads Are Pledged.

Every railroad in the country that had announced or contemplated an increase in freight rates effective June 1 or afterward, is now pledged to withdraw all increases that have been filed, and withhold any new schedules until the passage of the pending railroad bill by congress. Thereafter all increases in rates will have to stand the test of reasonableness at the bar of the interstate commerce commission before becoming effective and the burden of proof will be shifted from the shipper to the railroad.

Sends Message to Congress.

To clinch the victory, the president sent to congress a message recommending that the clause in the railroad bill which allows sixty days to intervene before the bill becomes operative, be amended in order that the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission over increased rates shall become effective immediately upon the signing of the measure. As the railroads have agreed to withhold contemplated increases only until the enactment of the new law, the sixty-day provision would permit them, after the bill is signed, to file increases that would be outside of the power of the commission to review in advance. Hence the president recommends that the new law be made effective at once as to rate-making.

Assurances have been given the president that this recommendation will be complied with.

Rate Bill in Conference.

The railroad bill was sent to conference by the narrow margin of six votes in the house, and Senators McKim, Aldrich and Foster, in behalf of the senate, and Representatives Mann, Wanger and Adamson, in behalf of the house, were appointed as conferees.

By a vote of 158 to 162 the house rejected the motion by Lenroot of Wisconsin to accept the senate amendments to the railroad bill and to make the section affecting increases in rates effective immediately on the approval of the new law.

COMMAND CITY TO SEE PARADE.

Massachusetts Mayor Orders Citizens to Turn Out for Circus.

Salem, Mass., June 8.—Arthur Howard, mayor of Salem, issued a proclamation demanding that the town turn out to view a circus parade. Through his efforts the school board ordered the schools closed so that the children might view the procession. In his proclamation he said: "I, therefore, command that every man, woman and child shall assemble in the streets for the purpose of viewing the circus parade. No excuse for non-attendance of children will be accepted."

POSTAL BANK RULE IS ADOPTED.

House Passes Closure on Bill—Limits Debates to Eight Hours.

Washington, June 8.—With but ten insurgent votes on the closure rule on the postal savings banks bill was put through the house by a vote of 169 to 144. The rule is one that permits eight hours' debate on the measure, four hours to each side, and prohibits all amendments except one in the nature of a substitute for the whole bill. Working under that rule, the house will take the bill up Thursday.

1,300 DEAD IN INDIAN UPRISING.

Situation in Yucatan Critical and Troops Are Ordered Out.

El Paso, Tex., June 8.—The Maya Indian uprising in Yucatan, Mex., has become critical, and Mexican troops are now being rushed to the territory of the Mayas as rapidly as possible. Reports via New Orleans by cable state that 10,000 Mayas and Spaniards are now in revolt against the Mexican government, and 1,300 natives, including women and children, have already been killed. Fighting has been in progress more than a week, and the actual death list is not known, as much of the work has been in ambush. It is also reported that the Mexican government has dispatched a gunboat to the coast of Yucatan, carrying armed forces, which will be disembarked at the town of Sarawil.

POLICE ROUT THE SUFFRAGISTS.

Break Up Public Meeting of Women in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 8.—A woman's suffrage meeting on the plaza of this city was broken up by the police, who said they were obeying the orders of the director of public safety. Prominent members of the suffrage movement in this city who were about to address the gathering at first defied the policemen, but, urged by friends, desisted in time to avoid arrest. They say they will appeal to the mayor.

ROOSEVELT REPORT IS DENIED.

Not Offered Presidency of Michigan University, Say Regents.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 8.—There is no truth in the report that Regent Codd has gone to London to ask Theodore Roosevelt to be president of the University of Michigan, according to statements made by the regents here. It is said the regents have not decided on anyone, but it is believed that Codd favors James H. Angell of the University of Chicago.

Blows Man's Head Off.

Asbury Park, N. J., June 8.—David Katz, a Hebrew, aged thirty-three, was instantly killed here when a soda water tank he was recharging in his store exploded and blew his head off.

UNITED STATES MAY SHELL BLUEFIELDS BLUFF

Nicaraguan General Threatens to Stop Vessels Flying American Flag.

Bluefields, June 8.—There are constant rumors of threats against the life of Thomas P. Moffat, the American consul here, and the whole situation at Bluefields has assumed a more serious aspect.

These reports, following the antagonist attitude adopted by the Madrizists in defying the American government by leaving an official statement that the first vessel entering Bluefields, whether flying the American flag or not, would be seized have caused a feeling of disquietude among Americans.

In reply to the statement concerning seizures Commander Hines of the Dubuque, who is now the senior American officer here, has given notice to General Rivas in these terms: "The first shot fired at any vessel engaged in commercial relations with America or showing the American flag will cause me to level Bluefields bluff. This warning may be considered final."

The revolutionists, who are friendly to the Americans, seem to have gained through the ill-considered action of their opponents, and it is thought that Madriz will not be able to firmly establish his government.

Washington, June 8.—General Estrada, the Nicaraguan insurgent chief, has appealed to the Cartago court of justice, asking its influence to obtain from President Madriz a reply to his offer of March 14 last, proposing that the two, and that an election be held for president, at which neither Estrada nor Madriz shall be candidates.

RIVAL OF DIAZ PUT IN PRISON.

Madero, Candidate for President of Mexico, Locked Up.

New York, June 8.—On the strength of private advices received here from Monterrey, Mex., the Tribune will say that Francisco J. Madero, who has been running against General Diaz for the presidency of Mexico, was secretly arrested on Monday night and is now in prison.

SOLDIERS HIT BY LIGHTNING.

Entire Infantry Company Felled by Bolt—Three Dead, 15 Hurt.

Dresden, Saxony, June 8.—Lightning struck an infantry regiment that was marching into the German camp here. A whole company was hurled to the ground.

Three soldiers were killed and 15 others were seriously injured.

THE ECLIPSE GAS RANGE

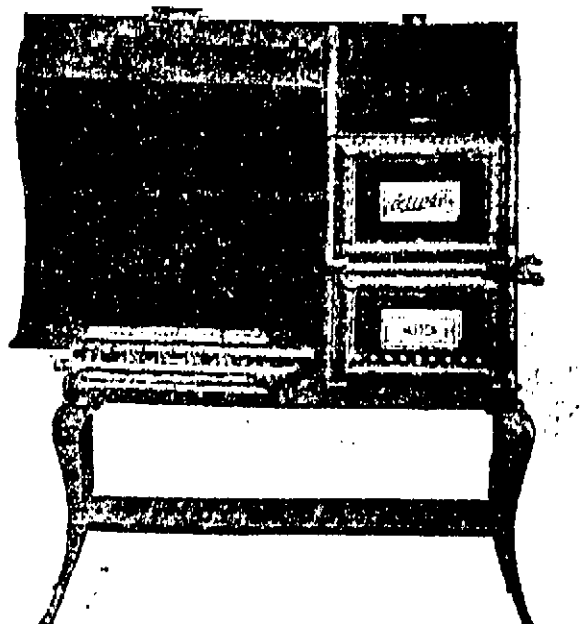

Broiling, baking and cooking with the Eclipse Gas Range means a perfectly cooked steak and chop, evenly baked bread and cake, without delay, and minus a hot kitchen. The heat can be regulated exactly right with no waste of fuel, insuring economy and avoiding endless annoyances of old fashioned methods.

This illustration shows the Cabinet Range. It has an 18-inch oven and 18-inch broiler, with warming oven at top, all heated with one flame. It has five top burners, one giant, three single and one simmering burner. It is built high enough so that no stooping is required. The lines of this range are simple, even severe, yet giving the effect of substance in material and tone in finish. It is coated with lacquer that gives a rich, even black, clean to handle and very lasting.

The burners give a short, sharp flame very close to the cooking utensil and it has been tested and proven to be the highest in efficiency of any gas range burner in use. $30.00.

This same gas range, made without the warming oven at top and without the hood and splash board can be had at $22.50.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WHEN you pick up a magazine what do you turn to first? If you are one of a sadly large class of magazine readers, I can answer my own question. You turn directly to the most interesting looking short story—the story that has the most alluring title, the most attractive pictures and the “best selling” name attached to it.

And when you have gobbled that story up, you read the next best, and so on down the line to the rather uninteresting story with a lot of solid print and only one or two illustrations.

Maybe you also glance at a poem or two, if they are short enough, and perhaps read the dramatic criticism. But how often do you read any of the non-fiction articles—the true stories of what men and women are doing to better the world and make it a more livable world for other men and women, the descriptions of little known lands, the investigation and discussion of unsatisfactory conditions of government and industry, the opinions of great men on the big economic and civic questions of the day, the stories of important inventions and discoveries, the memoirs of famous men?

Now I know that of course there are a great many people who do read these things, or else they would not be bought and printed, but I also think there is an abominably large class of magazine buyers who seldom look at these non-fiction articles.

Take any one of these fiction-only readers with the habit and he will in all probability retort: “But I work hard all day, and when I get home and get hold of a magazine I’m too tired to try to educate myself. I want to be amused.”

Listen, my friend. Will it really tire you so very much more to be intelligently interested occasionally than to be perpetually amused? Some of these serious articles deal in technical terms and demand great concentration, but these are decidedly in the minority, and the majority do not demand any more mental effort than is necessary to follow the antics of the characters in the customary love story and I think they will interest you full as keenly once you get accustomed to reading them.

That’s the crux of the whole matter—the getting used to it.

For a person who habitually reads only fiction, to pick up a magazine and turn past the story with the alluring sketch picture of the lady with the big hat and big eyes and fuzzy hair pouring tea for the man with the Greek god figure, and read instead how a certain judge has succeeded in alienating bad boys into good citizens, or who gets the extra five cents a pound he pays for his Sunday beef and what methods might be taken to persuade the culprit to give some of that five back, may demand self denial at first, but I don’t believe you will require much after you have done it several times.

If you don’t possess it, why don’t you start acquiring the non-fiction article reading habit today?

Begin by promising yourself that in all the magazines you take up for the next month you will read at least one or two of these articles and by the end of the month you’ll be a wiser man.

Now, don’t think I’m deceiving you. I’m not. I think it would be sad indeed if one could not sometimes spend delightful hours forgetting one’s self and one’s cares in a clever magazine story.

I’m simply suggesting that it won’t hurt you if you want yourself from an unbalanced diet of mental eclairs and cream cakes and similar pastries—delicious though they may be—and add a few literary breadstuffs and nutmegs to your magazine menu.

NEW HEAD OF ARMY, DEPARTMENT OF THE EAST.

Brigadier General and Mrs. Howe, commander Governor's Island.

New York, N. Y.—Brigadier General Howe, who succeeds Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood as head of the department of the east, is one of the picturesque figures in the army. Through a long and active career he has won his way to the front. Mr. Howe is accompanied by his wife, who is popular with society and army private alike.

Napoleon's Elba Flag.

Lord Archibald Campbell has presented to the army museum in Paris a curious relic of Napoleon. This is the flag which the latter flew in the Isle of Elba during his captivity there. The flag is square, white and fringed with gold, bearing three gold bees and a diagonal scarlet stripe. The staff carries a white and scarlet scarf, having also three gold bees. Napoleon does not seem to have used the flag he invented elsewhere than in the Isle of Elba, where he was a dethroned and captive monarch. In France, although bees were always his emblem, and were embroidered on his state robes, his standard was the tricolor.

A Bright Blacksmith.

The greatest improvement in vehicle construction was when some bright blacksmith thought of heating the tires and shrinking them on the wheel. While many claim the honor, it is not known to whom it rightly belongs. Previously to this event tires were made in short sections and held on the wheels with nails. When starting on a long haul the driver always laid in a good supply of nails to use on the trip.—Shop Notes Quarterly.

IDEAL SCHOOL CONDITIONS.

By MARY HENSHALL.
Did you ever stop to think how many people you know who seem to be out of their proper element?

Found pages in square holes? If you take the trouble to analyze your friends, you will be surprised to note how many of them seem suited to different surroundings.

One bright woman suggested to me the other day that what we really need in our school course was a chair of adjustment.

The professor who holds this chair should study the children under him and discover as far as possible, the natural trend of each child's mind, and stimulate it in effort in the direction where lies the greatest chance for success. Such a school would be nearer the ideal we are all seeking in the educational world.

It would mean individually instead of this constant strain to fit all children to one mould.

We are fond of putting ourselves on the back in approval of our modern school system, but we still tell our short of the ideal condition. We attempt too much and we spread it over too long a time.

When it is possible for a child under a good coach to make a grade in two summer months, and not study over three hours a day, then something is wrong with our system. A year's honest work should not be so thinly spread out as to be capable of such concentration.

We are coming a little closer to the ideal condition now that we are demanding that the idle and stupid child shall have a room where he may devote as long as he pleases, and not hinder the wide-awake studious child, but we still stretch the term and work out too long. Better fewer months in school and faster, better work in smaller classes.

I am greatly in favor of large buildings or more of them. Of smaller rooms and more teachers. Of classes actively working instead of dragging out through the year, and then I advise a shorter year.

We shut children within four walls too long. Boys are either too long or the school term is unduly lengthened. Let us by all means study the child and his needs—not the needs of book trust nor teacher, nor school board, nor even the parent, who wants the child out of the way for as many hours as possible.

If the child is indeed the hope of the nation, then we have no right to condemn that child to close confinement within four walls at hard mental labor for nine months of the year during at least four and a half hours a day.

We would expect the newspapers to write scathing articles over the story of such a deed done by an individual—why then do we sovereign people smile and say it is good when done in the name of education?

Are books and book learning all that children need at the hands of a government which becomes each day more paternal?

Are not bodies quite as important as brains? We will go on turning out round pegs for square holes as long as the present wholesale system of education prevails.

Cultivate Repose.

There is a lot of truth in the expression: “Power through repose” and a book written concerning it. When your nerves are relaxed and your mind at ease you have infinitely more grasp on the situation.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By Rose Terrell.

By ROSE TERRELL.
The dainty frills and collars that girls and their mothers are wearing are a great addition to the toilet. They are easily made and not expensive when made at home.

The sensible, economical girl will hunt the stores and pick up remnants of trimmings and odd notions in embroidery and lace and utilize them according to the setting they seem to demand.

One of the prettiest of habits is of dainty filmy handkerchiefs edged with a narrow lace or a narrow edge of lace and with a narrow edge up the sides. This pleated into a filmy full of lace and lawn is very handsome.

One girl ransomed the scrap bag and found odds and ends enough to make a full supply of butterfly bows and collars. She inserted medallions in some and made others with hemstitching and tucks. Where the material is very fine this is one of the prettiest of all the frills.

Cuffs are made to some of the sets, but their popularity is on the wane. The Dutch collar for shirt waist and wash suits is very becoming to young faces. Great care should be taken that the collar fits well. It is rather a trick to fit different necks perfectly in this style. The ordinary standing collar fits at different numbers and heights, but the Dutch collar has to be adapted to the shoulders as well as the necks. A glance around the next picnic table will show as great a diversity in necks as faces.

The small crocheted motifs—especially the roses—are being used by the clever girl to insert in embroidered designs for shirt waists. Either braid or embroidery makes a good combination. A little ingenuity will result in very original and exclusive designs. If the rose has a little border of baby Irish crochet it will be an addition, and with jabot and collar to match with not only look handsome but be handsome. Such waists cost $10 and $12 in the shops.

To have plenty of “prittles” for the neck is very necessary to the summer girl who would always be dainty. The dark rim about a collar after one day's wearing should be all the warning she needs that it is time to make a change.

Begin now to take care of the complexion. The cream of roses given in these columns before will be found an excellent base for the protecting film of powder which does so much to bring the wearer home from long country rides or beach parties in a condition fit for dancing in evening gown. A word to the wise will be sufficient.

THE COFFEE HABIT.

Tea, coffee, and even cocoa and chocolate contain poisonous principles that to some extent retard digestion and injure the nerves, liver and kidneys. Coffee often causes sleeplessness. The best of substitutes is cereal coffee, which, though it contains little if any nutriment, is harmless and supplies the need that many feel from the habit of taking a warm drink. Many will take the necessary amount of water daily, from one to two quarts, when cereal coffee is taken, who otherwise would suffer for want of the necessary liquid. The waste of digestion and of the physiologic processes cannot be promptly carried off without an adequate supply of water. The coffee habit is often as tyrannical, almost, as the alcohol habit. The best way to overcome it is to add a little cereal to the coffee, increasing the amount gradually, till the coffee is eliminated.

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness

By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A.M., M.D.

There are people who are inclined to eat too much and too rich food. Such a practice not only impoverishes the mental powers, but impairs the health and consigns the body to a life-long chastisement. There is a Latin saying that many diseases make many diseases. Many have been brought to the realization that this sentence contains a great amount of truth. Excessive eating, too high living weakens the system, and makes the body susceptible to disease, and this in consideration of food, health and mental attainments, brings us to the Latin sentence, “Mens sano in corpore sano,” a sound mind in a sound body. The mind is the power of the man; without the mind he is a cipher in this world; it is mind that triumphs over brute force and turns oil into tranquility, and makes something of men besides “hewers of wood and-carriers of water.” The way to have a superior mind is to keep the body in a healthy condition. The simple liver is not obliged to resort to alcohol and other things to stimulate the appetite, for he is always in the possession of a good appetite, he has a good healthy stomach that is always ready to do its work.

You need not suffer from sickness, and you need not fill yourself with drugs in order to be made well.

The great new science of Chiropractic (no drugs—no pain) has shown the world that in order to be made well and to remain well it is necessary to remove the cause of the affliction and that treating symptoms with medicine is not as practical as the Chiropractic adjustment. Even nerve in the entire body which control every function and organ of the entire human system and every nerve (100,000,000 in all) pass through the spine. When certain nerves do not perform their functions you become sick. The way to remove the cause of the sickness is to get at the nerve that is not working. This is done by Chiropractic adjustment of the spine. Almost every ailment is curable by the Chiropractic science. If you suffer from sickness of any kind, call for free consultation and adjustment.

"OLD CHARLEY," THE LARGEST ELEPHANT IN CAPTIVITY, DEAD

Monster Pachyderm Owned by Col. G. W. Hall of Evansville, Died Monday Morning.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, June 7.—"Old Charley," one of the largest elephants in captivity died here yesterday morning at the winter quarters of his owner, Col. G. W. Hall, the veteran showman. The elephant has been ailing for some time and has given his keepers a great deal of trouble. He showed a tendency to be vicious early in the spring and in March the attendant became afraid of him. Mr. Hall then sent to New York for Captain Dano, his old keeper, but he met with no better success. In handling him than others for notwithstanding that he used great precaution the elephant turned on him and threw him against a wall and while he escaped with no broken bones he was considerably bruised. The animal had always shown great affection for Mrs. Frank Longbottom, better known as Mable Hall, and she has always been able to handle him with the greatest ease and for a while she was the only one who dared to go near him, but of late he seemed to have even forgotten her and it was a serious task to feed and water him as no one dared go within his reach. "Old Charley" was one of the Luchart elephants and was brought to this country from Africa by Mr. Luchart about twenty years ago. Col. Hall purchased the elephant from the Ringling Brothers ten years ago and since that time he has always been quiet and peaceable and has been a great attraction. He weighed several thousand pounds, he weighed six and a half tons or thirteen thousand pounds. His tusks are valued at fifteen hundred dollars and the hide has been removed and will probably be mounted. Preparations for his burial have been going on all day and he will be interred on the grounds as near where he died as possible on account of his great weight. It will take a ten foot trench to hold the carcass.

"DIG CHARLEY."

Y. M. C. A. Banquet.
The preliminary arrangements have been made for the Y. M. C. A. banquet to be given next Tuesday evening and the various committees are all working hard to make it a success in every way. Dr. M. L. Ewing has in charge the menu for the occasion and it will be as follows:

Punch
Crowned chicken Mashed potatoes
Combination salad Olives Radishes
Purloochoo rolls
Ice cream Assorted cakes
Cheese Toasted wafers Coffee
Salted nuts.

They are planning to serve fully two hundred. One of the leading orchestras of the city will furnish music during the supper hour, state Sec. E. E. Anderson of Milwaukee, will act as toastmaster and will also give an address, taking for his topic, "Why Evansville Should Support A Y. M. C. A."

Other toasts will be as follows: "What the Y. M. C. A. is doing for the Young Men"—C. A. Gault, President of Beloit Y. M. C. A. "The Y. M. C. A. An Ideal Place for A Young Man"—A. Jorgenson, Sec. University Y. M. C. A. "Why Every Young Man Should Belong to the Y."—Irvin Meyers. In conclusion there will be short talks by some of the local men.

Methodists Feasted.
More than one hundred and twenty-five people were pleasantly entertained at the Methodist church last evening when the defeated side in the Sunday school contest paid the debt they owed to the victors. Rev. T. W. North's bible class was selected to furnish the entertainment and complied in a very happy manner. Alex. Richardson, Sr., gave a select reading and was heartily cheered and responded. His second selection pleased the audience equally as much as the first and he was applauded and given no fewer than six more numbers. J. D. Porter, also a member of the class, furnished the music. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social way and closed with a supper, the winning members being given places of honor.

Prof. F. J. Lovell left yesterday on a vacation trip of two or three weeks during which time he will visit points in Alabama, Washington and Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. William Schaff left Monday for their home in La Crosse, Iowa, having been here for a short visit with the latter's brother, G. W. Loyola and family.
Mrs. S. J. Baker will go to Janesville tomorrow to attend the fourth anniversary of Janesville chapter of Eastern Star and while in the city will be the guest of Mrs. G. H. Turner.

PROGRESS OF THE CITY STREET WORK

Excavations Have Been Completed for Macadam on Washington—South Main Curbing Contract Sublet.

Street improvement work is going forward rapidly on Washington street. The excavation is practically completed; the car tracks are down and being tamped to grade; and the filling in with crushed stone will be commenced the last of the present week. The Grand-Graham Co. is having considerable difficulty in securing paving brick for South Main street owing to the strike in the Burlington concern's plant at Galesburg but it is expected that deliveries will be made not later than the first of July. To E. D. Cannon has been sublet the contract for the cement curb and gutter and this construction will commence at once. Nothing definite has yet been done regarding the asphalt construction work on Shields, South Second, and South Third streets. The last of the samples of the material which the various contractors proposed to use have but recently been received and the street assessment committee and city engineer are experiencing considerable difficulty in locating people who are qualified to make a proper test of the same. Work has been received from the University of Wisconsin laboratories that facilities are lacking there for an adequate investigation of the asphalt.

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT INCREASE IN SUGAR BEET AREA

Chronicles by Elmer Bullard—Outlook for Hay Crop Poor in All Sections—Weather Bad for Cabbage and Tobacco.
Elmer Bullard, who has had the opportunity of observing crop conditions recently over a wide territory in the middle west, has sent the following resume of conditions to the Gazette.

Moline, Ill., June 7th, 1910.
Janesville Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Gentlemen: Having been over the territory between Milwaukee, Chicago and Omaha and from St. Paul to Cincinnati, within the last two months we had the general situation about one and the same in all localities, not varying more than 10 per cent in vegetation growth. The outlook for the hay crop is very poor in all sections. The out and wheat crops are looking very good. The corn crop is in all conditions from finishing planting, replanting to cultivating in the different localities. Barley crop is fair, very little rye is being sown anywhere. Potato crop seems to be doing well. The cabbage and tobacco plants are badly affected on account of the cold weather and many of the growers are turning to the sugar beet industry, which crop is fairly well planted and doing well. The weather conditions seem to suit that crop better than others, the plants showing vigorous growth. The growers are in the midst of the first operation of blocking and thinning and are employing several thousand men throughout the sugar beet belt for this operation.

Yours truly,
ELMER BULLARD.

P. S. Average of sugar beets has been increased 25 per cent over other years.

Simple Explanation.
Superstitious people formerly regarded with awe the turning red at long intervals of Lake Monari, in Switzerland. Botanists have now shown that the phenomenon is due to a plant which propagates every tenth year, and which, though very minute, grows so rapidly that the whole lake is soon turned crimson.

Loser and Winner.
Everybody admires a good loser; but everybody admires a winner more.

Deep Breathing.
Practice deep breathing exercises for the circulation and to develop the chest and lungs. Inhale slowly and to the full capacity of the lungs, hold the breath for a few seconds and then as slowly exhale the breath.

Bears at Hibernating Time.
Many bears that hibernate dig into a hillside to find a nest, but for a mild winter they are likely to roll up in some shallow excavation or a hollow tree.

Reason for Queer Language Employed by Malaysians When Gathering Camphor.

In Johore, on the Malay peninsula, there is employed one of the strongest languages in the world, used for a most curious purpose. This tongue is called Pantang Kapor, or "camphor language," and is a medium employed by natives and others engaged in gathering the product of the Malay camphor trees, but only when they are at work.

It is a superstition of these natives that should they use the language of the district, the Malay or aboriginal Jakun, they would be unable to obtain their camphor.

The Malay natives firmly believe that each species of tree has a spirit or guardian angel that presides over its affairs, this spirit being known by the name of Bisan. This divinity's resting place is near the trees. Then, too, the spirit of the camphor tree is held to be extremely jealous of the precious gum, so that it becomes necessary to propitiate him, inasmuch as he would, should he learn that hunters were in quest of it, endeavor to interfere obstacles to their mission.

Accordingly the natives speak in a tongue that the tree spirit may not understand. It was for this purpose that the mysterious "camphor language" was invented, and it consists of an odd mixture of Jakun and Malay words that have been curiously altered and reversed.—Harper's Weekly.

His Fate Deserved.
A western man fell and broke his neck while trying to kiss a woman on the stairs. Anyone who would take steps to kiss a woman is not entitled to sympathy. This thing should be spontaneous.—Cleveland Leader.

CHARGES AGAINST PATENT MEDICINES.
Most of the charges against patent medicines as a class have no foundation in fact and are manifestly unfair and unjust.

There are a large number of standard remedies like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound used in thousands of American homes which have saved hundreds of dollars to families who could not afford to consult a physician, and they have answered the purpose equally as well.

Simple Explanation.
Superstitious people formerly regarded with awe the turning red at long intervals of Lake Monari, in Switzerland. Botanists have now shown that the phenomenon is due to a plant which propagates every tenth year, and which, though very minute, grows so rapidly that the whole lake is soon turned crimson.

Loser and Winner.
Everybody admires a good loser; but everybody admires a winner more.

Deep Breathing.
Practice deep breathing exercises for the circulation and to develop the chest and lungs. Inhale slowly and to the full capacity of the lungs, hold the breath for a few seconds and then as slowly exhale the breath.

Bears at Hibernating Time.
Many bears that hibernate dig into a hillside to find a nest, but for a mild winter they are likely to roll up in some shallow excavation or a hollow tree.

Reason for Queer Language Employed by Malaysians When Gathering Camphor.

In Johore, on the Malay peninsula, there is employed one of the strongest languages in the world, used for a most curious purpose. This tongue is called Pantang Kapor, or "camphor language," and is a medium employed by natives and others engaged in gathering the product of the Malay camphor trees, but only when they are at work.

It is a superstition of these natives that should they use the language of the district, the Malay or aboriginal Jakun, they would be unable to obtain their camphor.

The Malay natives firmly believe that each species of tree has a spirit or guardian angel that presides over its affairs, this spirit being known by the name of Bisan. This divinity's resting place is near the trees. Then, too, the spirit of the camphor tree is held to be extremely jealous of the precious gum, so that it becomes necessary to propitiate him, inasmuch as he would, should he learn that hunters were in quest of it, endeavor to interfere obstacles to their mission.

Accordingly the natives speak in a tongue that the tree spirit may not understand. It was for this purpose that the mysterious "camphor language" was invented, and it consists of an odd mixture of Jakun and Malay words that have been curiously altered and reversed.—Harper's Weekly.
